Project News

OCTOBER 31, 2016

Happy Halloween! Project news isn't as spooky as you might think, however there are some safety concerns, so be sure to drive slow and use caution. Drilling and blasting of the final pre-shear rock cut is under way, and the top bench should be complete this week. Rock is being placed toward the end of the project working toward the harbor. Crushing operations are expected to move near station 83+00 shortly.

Notes

- Pictured above is an excavator and the rock drill on top of the final rock cut near station 96+00. This area was the most technical aspect of the drilling for this project.
- Please use caution when driving through the project as the site will change day to day.
